

Giuseppina Mandarino (Female)

Education

Italian University Degree in Foreign Language and Literature (English and Spanish), LUMSA University; Rome, Italy;

B.A. in Spanish Language and Literature, Notre Dame University, Baltimore, MD, USA

Degree as Interpreter and Translator, Scuola Superiore Interpreti e Traduttori, Rome, Italy.

Working experience

1985-1994 : Shell Oil Co. - Assistant to Director Manager

1996 – 2013 : Istituto Superiore di Sanità (ISS), Dept. of Infectious Diseases, Technical Collaborator, Secretarial activity and proof-reader of scientific manuscripts for peer-reviewed publications.

2013 to date: ISS - External Relations and International Affairs Centre.

2020 to date: Secretariat Responsible for ISS/OCSE-EHS relations

- Activity for Internationalization of ISS, (meeting with international Healthcare Departments representatives from International Organizations, Ministries and Universities aiming at stipulation of Memoranda of Understanding.
- Organization of National and International Meetings and Conferences.
- Project assistant to national and international calls in the field of emergencies and disasters in healthcare. In particular, work on 7 projects funded by EBRD and 1 Horizon 2020, through PENTA Joint Laboratory.
- Participation to several international missions in the framework of International Cooperation.
- Authors of some articles on scientific Journals in the field of Resilience operationalization and data collection in infectious diseases.